

BECAUSE FLEXIBILITY MATTERS.

Enable a seamless document comparison and collaboration experience.

The legal documentation workflow is highly-collaborative and dynamic in nature, and lawyers must be able to manage their responsibilities from anywhere, at any time. Meanwhile, IT managers are expected to deliver a flexible and secure ecosystem that supports this workflow.

FOSTER FLEXIBILITY, INNOVATION, & SECURITY WITH THE LITERA OPEN API

Litera offers an open application program interface (API), enabling users to compare, clean, and securely collaborate on their documents wherever they want, such as proprietary and third-party applications. Now, the IT department can deliver elements of the document drafting workflow into a coherent operational strategy, and users can manage their documents with anyone from the workspace of their choice.

ENHANCE USER EXPERIENCE & PRODUCTIVITY

How the user compares, cleans, and shares documents is consistent and seamless from nearly any platform, and eliminates the need to jump around from place to place within their workflow.

EXTEND PRODUCT BENEFITS TO CLIENTS

Members of the firm aren't the only beneficiaries of Literra product features; when the open web API is utilized, anyone with access to your intranet or shared platform can reap the benefits.

REALIZE GREATER VALUE FROM INVESTMENTS

When there's no limit to where and how infrastructure and product investments are used, the firm can demonstrate ongoing innovation, workflow optimization, and cost savings to its partners and clients.

The Litera Web API integrates within your existing programs:

- Cloud Service Providers
- Document Management Systems
- 3rd Party Research Providers
- 3rd party Content Providers
- Internal Intranet
- Office 365
- Microsoft Server 2008, 2012, 2018
- Other leading programs

Is compatible with:

- Windows 7 and later
- Office 2013 and later (32 and 64 bit)

“ Changing the way that certain routine and repetitive tasks are handled allows our lawyers to focus on more challenging work, improving their development and future success, while at the same time driving greater efficiencies for the benefit of our clients. ”
